

The new launch of our dedicated website for 「Kynol®」

We have launched the new website dedicated to our Kynol products.

Kynol is a high-performance novoloid fiber made from phenol resin and has been used for 10 years in a variety of applications. Currently, we are the only company in the world that manufactures novoloid fiber products.

The recent rise in the environmental awareness has accelerated the development of new application for Kynol and increasing its demand. In a rapidly changing economic environment, we have received many inquiries from all over the world to utilize the Kynol in new applications.

We have launched the new website dedicated to Kynol in the hope that more people will become aware of the possibilities that Kynol holds and take it into their own hands. We would be happy to help you solve your problems by our products.
